KLIMT

ATTERSEE

A WORLD-FAMOUS ARTIST ON LAKE ATTERSEE

In August 1901, still in Vienna, Gustav Klimt wrote the following lines to Emilie Flöge, staying on Lake Attersee: 'I long to be gone like never before' – gone to Lake Attersee of course!

Today, Lake Attersee presents itself as a unique place of inspiration for the world-famous art nouveau artist Gustav Klimt who regularly spent his summers here between 1900 and 1916. Together with his relatives and friends of the Flöge and Paulick families, Klimt enjoyed his summer sojourns far from the big city life in Vienna, retreating to his summer residences - at first to the brewery inn in Litzlberg, from 1908 to 1912 to Villa Oleander in Kammer and from 1914 onwards to the forester's house in Weissenbach on the southern shore of the lake. He was also a regular at Villa Paulick in Seewalchen. Always in search of artistic inspiration, he created a major part of his 50 known landscapes here. Their motifs can still be recognised around the lake and in the region. Experience this atmosphere and follow his footsteps during a visit of the Gustav Klimt Center or a stroll along the Gustav Klimt Artist Trail.

PFAHLBAU (PILE DWELLINGS)

FINDS FROM PREHISTORIC SETTLEMENTS

The pile dwelling settlements were listed as the 9th UNESCO World Heritage site in Austria and have thus become part of the collective memory of the whole world. The remains of the pile dwelling settlements date back 6000 years and are hidden in the shallow waters near the lakeshore. The villages were built on wooden stilts, which is why they are also called stilt house settlements. The majority of the pile dwellings discovered in Austria until today are located on the shores of Lake Attersee.

Let one of our pile dwellings guides take you back to the Stone Age and to the settlers who inhabited the shores of Lake Attersee thousands of years ago and learn about their natural environment and the history of the region. Immerse yourself in their lifestyle and literally grasp an old pile, stone tool, arrowhead, seeds and hazelnut shells from the Stone Age or marvel at the sight of a Stone-Age stone drill.

ADVENTUROUS JOURNEY IN TIME EXPEDITION INTO THE STONE-AGE

for groups of 20 or more persons (minimum of 30 persons for chartered boats) duration including boat cruise: 3 hrs bookable from April to October with Attersee Schifffahrt or the association Pfahlbau am Attersee

This expedition takes you from Attersee via Weyregg to Seewalchen by boat, where you will learn all about the Stone-Age at the Pile Dwelling Pavilion. You can marvel at and actually touch some of the prehistoric finds before returning to Attersee passing by the charming island of Litzlberg.

STONE AGE ADVENTURE: LIFE IN THE PILE DWELLING SETTLEMENT

A Pile Dwelling guide will take you back to the Stone Age and you will learn all about the life in the village, the tools and their making and usage. CELTIC HERITAGE TRAIL

ATTERGAU LOOKOUT TOWER

ATTERGAU LOOKOUT TOWER ON THE LICHTENBERG MOUNTAIN (SINCE 2003)

'Farsighted' is the word to describe those who choose to hike or drive up the Lichtenberg mountain and climb the Attergau lookout tower. 208 steps and 36 metres are well worth the effort once you marvel at the view of the Salzkammergut at your feet. Enjoy the amazing panoramic view from 884 m above sea level: the Traunstein mountain, the Höllengebirge mountain range, Lake Attersee, the Dachstein peaks and many more landmarks. The highest point of the Attergau region is especially attractive on cloudy or foggy days, because at the top of the Lichtenberg mountain, you almost always leave the fog below you. If you don't want to take chances, or you would like to recall the magnificent panorama at home, we recommend you check out our lookout tower webcam. By the way, coaches can easily drive up to the car park of the Lichtenberg lookout tower.

From there it is just a 10 minutes' walk along a gravel path to the Attergau lookout tower. If the hike and tower made you hungry, Berggasthof Danter, just 700 metres from the tower, is the ideal place for a hearty snack or a coffee break. If you would rather continue hiking, we recommend the Lichtenberg circuit starting and ending at the car park. A gravel path takes you around the top of the Lichtenberg mountain in roughly 1 hour.

BIERSCHMIEDE (CRAFT BREWERY)

Experience authentic brewing and feel the passion of the brewer. In the course of a guided tour you will learn all about beer, brewing and the ideas behind the Bierschmiede brewery. A pleasurable tasting of the prize-winning beers in the snugly restaurant completes this interesting experience. In the adjoining shop you will find beer souvenirs and of course the full range of beer specialities, nicely packed if you wish. The brand name 'Bierschmiede' (beer smithy) was chosen in honour of the grandfather of the brewer, who actually was the blacksmith of Steinbach. It also refers to the trade itself which, like no other, stands for strength and character, just like the beers crafted here. This philosophy is followed through all the way to the names of the different beers such as 'work piece', 'red heat', 'tinder' or 'anvil'.

NIXENFALL (LEGENDARY WATERFALL)

A NATURAL SPECTACLE WITH SHOWERING EFFECT

This wonderful family hike takes us to a waterfall which, according to a legend, is home to the mermaid (in German 'Nixe') Adhara.

Our starting point is the Fachbergbrücke bridge in Weißenbach am Attersee. The trail is well-marked and suitable for push-chairs and buggies, making it the perfect family excursion. The fresh smell of the wood, the interchange of light and shadow on the water and on the banks of the Weissenbach river are sure to fascinate the old and the young.

Half way through the tour, the path leads us through an arch with an information board, relating the legend of the mermaid of Lake Attersee. After a short while, we reach the 50 m waterfall via a wooden staircase.

A picnic table close to the pool beckons us to take a rest. A perfect family adventure.

PURE NATURE

WORTH A VISIT

Gustav Mahler's composition hut

The composer Gustav Mahler spent the summers of 1893 to 1896 in Steinbach. He had a composition hut built directly on the lakeshore to be able to compose without being disturbed. This is where he wrote dozens of his songs and two great symphonies. Feel the inspiration during a visit.
